Distance Learning
Center, LLC

Serving the educational needs of the drug/alcohol field since 1997

Obtain basic or continuing education hours via distance learning and save both time and money! The Distance Learning Center (a division of DLC, LLC) is working in conjunction with MAAP to provide an expanded training plan for counselors seeking credentialing in Mississippi. At the present time, MAAP offers a live, 186-hour training program to help students gather hours toward their Certified Alcohol & Drug Counselor (CADC) credential. We will be offering a special package of courses to allow students to obtain the hours not currently offered through the MACT training program. These hours will increase your knowledge of the drug/alcohol field AND help prepare you for your credentialing examination. For more information, visit the following website:

<https://www.dlcas.com/mississippi>.

We also offer more than ninety courses that can be used to fulfill your CE renewal requirements. All coursework is research based and developed by national experts in the field.

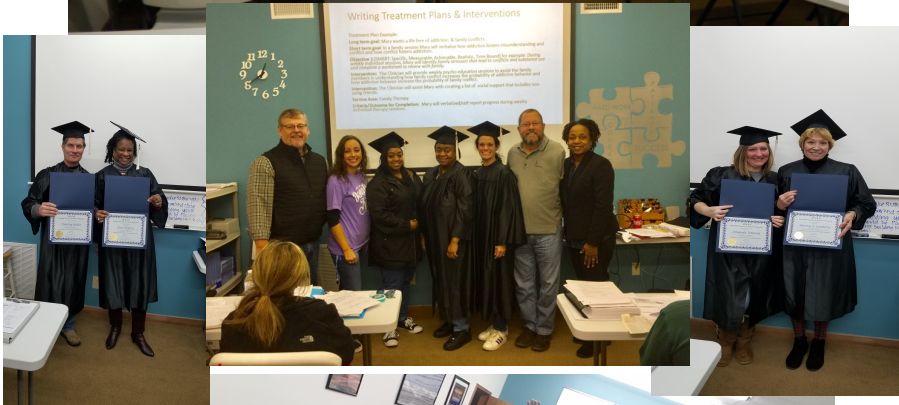

Our ReadyToTest.com division is dedicated to helping students study for and pass their IC&RC credentialing examination. Since 2001, we have helped more than 32,000 counselors successfully navigate this final requirement for obtaining a credential as a drug/alcohol professional.

We offer a variety of study materials to assist you when the time comes to sit for your examination. Whether you need "how to" information on taking the exam, or if you need content review materials to refresh your basic knowledge, ReadyToTest.com has a product that is right for you.

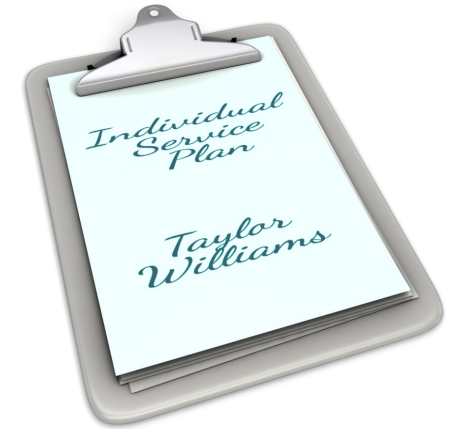

Visit our website at www.ReadyToTest.com for more information about our materials. You can also reach us by email at testing@dlc.email or call us, toll free, at 866 431-4240.

Dear Prospective Student,

The entire membership of the Mississippi Association of Addiction Professionals (MAAP) would like to thank you for your interest in the Mississippi Addiction Counselor Training (MACT) program.

Our goal is to help individuals interested in the field of addiction to become certified. This course is designed to give you education, understanding, application and techniques to help you help others and their families treat addiction.

The course is designed to provide the education and training needed to help you pass your certification examination, once the educational, supervision and work experience parts of the certification process are completed. The (MACT) course runs for fifteen (15) hours of education and training, one (1) weekend a month for twelve (12) months.

There is currently one location in the state, Jackson, Mississippi. We sincerely hope you will join us in helping others recover from addiction.

You will find everything you need to get started on our website www.msaap.net or by calling the MAAP office at 601-321-2085 for further information or questions. Please begin your registration process today, as seating is limited, and registrations are taken on a first come-first serve basis. We look forward to hearing from you.

Welcome to the MAAP family.
Sincerely,

MAAP Education Committee

For ADA assistance please contact Tonja Mangum at 601-321-2085 at least 3 weeks prior to scheduled activities.

Together, we are "Bringing all the Pieces Together" to help enhance the quality of life for those directly or indirectly affected by alcohol, tobacco and other drug abuse. MAAP's mission is three-fold: "To provide education, training and certification to professionals in the field of chemical dependency." In order to effectively carry out its mission, MAAP depends on the generosity of its volunteer members to serve on the Board of Directors of the association, Certification Board and various standing committees.

Are you interested in becoming certified?

Certification for addiction professionals is designed to accommodate and evaluate those who are experientially trained as well as those who are academically trained. The certification process defines the core knowledge and skill base needed by all professionals regardless of their professional training, orientation or occupation. The certification process sets a baseline standard for professionals providing services to individuals with alcohol and drug abuse problems. Such professionals are given recognition for meeting specific predetermined criteria. The purpose is to assure that quality treatment services are available to individuals with substance abuse problems. Certification provides a professional credential that can assist employers in selecting competent staff to work with this populations.

Where do I begin?

Begin by looking over the Credentialing pages on our website. Which type and level of certification are you most interested in pursuing? Once that is determined, do you meet, or are you close to meeting, the qualifications to submit an application packet and portfolio to the Certification Board? If so, download and print the Certification Manual, Application Packet & Portfolio for the credential you are seeking. If not, consult with your supervisor (s) for assistance in obtaining the appropriate certification for your career goals. You may need to further your education or obtain additional work experience to meet the guidelines. Whatever it takes, don't give up!

Welcome to MACT

Mississippi Association of Addiction Professionals (MAAP) is pleased to offer an outstanding training program that will assist addiction counselors and allied health professionals to acquire and develop effective skills to work with individuals and families affected by addiction. The Addiction Counselor Training (ACT) Model for training addiction counselors was developed in Texas in 1974 and has been implemented throughout Texas, Louisiana, Florida, Hawaii and California. Its founder, Vic Shaw established the ACT here in Mississippi in the late 1990s.

Vic Shaw ACT Founder

ACT has a proven track record of providing over three decades of quality counselor education, while benefitting several thousand individuals to improve and upgrade their skills. As we work to advance the credentialing standards here in Mississippi, we have recently added a textbook to guide the course and to help our graduates in taking the national credentialing exam. This book is published as a study guide by Kevin Scheel, who instructed the pharmacology segment of MACT for several years and has made it available for our students at a reduced price. As always, we are committed to providing this training at a reasonable cost and to making it accessible for interested individuals.

Thank you for your interest in the Mississippi Addiction Counselor Training (MACT) program and for your desire to improve your abilities and skills to help facilitate your work with addicted clients.. We hope that you will join us for this professional training program. If you have questions, you may contact the MAAP office by calling 601-321-2085 or emailing info@msaap.net. For additional information on training or to explore the different areas of certification, check out our website at www.msaap.net.

PURPOSE

The Mississippi Addiction Counselor Training (MACT) Program exists to help behavioral health students and professionals improve their skills to better serve persons addicted to harmful chemicals. All course work is structured in a manner to encourage both personal growth and professional development.

The program is designed for both experienced counselors looking to upgrade their skills, intern counselors working toward a credential, and individuals who are seeking employment in the addiction counseling profession. All training is provided in a safe learning environment conducive to personal and professional training and growth.

Eligibility

MACT courses are open to all individuals interested in learning more about chemical dependency. Many students have an interest in becoming a professional addiction counselor in a variety of social or work settings. Allied health professionals such as social workers, nurses, marriage and family therapists often benefit substantially from developing specialized addiction skills to better assist the individuals with whom they serve. A commitment to become a full-time counselor is not necessary for course enrollment. However, a strong desire to study the chemical dependency field is essential. A college degree is not required, but students are required to have a minimum of a high school diploma or GED.

Approved Provider

All MACT course offerings are approved by the Certification Board of the Mississippi Association of Addiction Professionals for credits toward certification and recertification as an addictions counselor in Mississippi. Other official professional continuing education accreditation groups, may also recognize MACT course work for continuing education credits.

Additional Courses
